A large, comfortable table with round edges, made from synthetic material with a smooth, bright feel, supported by a sturdy metal structure and tenuously cone-shaped wooden legs. A feature of this table is its smart square or rectangular top, with round-cut edges to lend it elegance. The metal cross frame underneath joins the four table legs allowing room for users to place their legs underneath and even cross them. The resulting Belloch is a spacious, sturdy, extremely elegant and robust table, the perfect companion for the Belloch chair.
