

RODAS | Universal patterns

A rug that is a hybrid carpet/tapestry RODAS forms part of the KILIM collection designed and manufactured by GAN, GANDIABLASCO's indoor brand, using the traditional weaving techniques.

RODAS is characterized by the strength of its fabric, jute, which GAN is introducing here for the first time within its catalogue. Natural and ecological jute fibre comes from the tropical plant of the same name, bringing a fresh and organic feel to every room of the house.

This proposal derives its strength from its weave, minimal weight and volume allow it to be used on the floor, draped over a sofa or table or even to be hung on a wall. The motif recalls the patterns and curves of ironwork or fleur de lis, a universal language shared by all cultures.

RODAS is available in a choice of two colour options, white or black against a neutral background. There are three dimensions to choose from; 150 x 200 cm, 170 x 240 cm and 200 x 300 cm.

Made of jute and viscose fibres using the kilim method, the minimal height at 6mm and weight at 1.7 kg/m makes this suitable option for diverse practical and decorative applications.

About Gan
